

PROGRESSIVES FACE SERIOUS ELECTION PROBLEM WITH 23 MILLION SHIFTING WORKERS AND ARMY PERSONNEL!

A recent Associated Press survey indicated that the total vote November 7 may be considerably under that of 1940. Only extraordinary activity by Organized Labor and citizens' groups can change that picture, and there is very little time to change it---to be exact, we have until September 28 to get people registered. Twelve million civilians of voting age have changed their home addresses since 1940. It has been pointed out that nearly all of these are industrial workers and farm laborers who are overwhelmingly for Roosevelt. In addition, some 11 million men and women are in uniform. The majority of these are also for Roosevelt. Here, then, are about 23 million potential voters either in the armed services or on the move around the country. Here in California much is at stake---defeating Proposition 12, carrying the state for Roosevelt, Downey, and the other labor-endorsed candidates. Our success will depend on how well we register the unregistered and how much of the service vote we stir up. Between now and September 28 it must be our NO. 1 JOB!

AFL-CIO Given 'Consent' Poll At Douglas Unit

Los Angeles, Calif. Douglas Aircraft Corp. has agreed to a consent election at its big Santa Monica plant, which the United Auto Workers (CIO) and the International Association of Machinists (AFL) have been seeking to organize for years. Management and representatives of the two unions were scheduled to meet at the NLRB office here to determine the size of the bargaining unit and probably to set the election date. Bargaining unit in a previous election was set at 18,000 workers. The election was ordered after the UAW presented the NLRB with pledge cards signed by several thousand workers. Union officials said that heavy layoffs of workers who are being forced to quit by threatened pay reductions had greatly increased union support at the plant. UAW lost a recent runoff election to "no union" after the IAM had been eliminated on the first ballot. Douglas' Long Beach plant has a contract with the UAW.

Landlords' Plan To Hike Rents In New York Slapped Down By the OPA

New York City Bid of New York landlords for a $100,000,000 yearly increase in rents was slapped down by the OPA. The OPA in a 12-page decision called the request for a 10 per cent rent increase unjustifiable and pointed out that New York landlords are in a rosier financial position now than at any time in the previous five years. The long-awaited ruling was hailed by Chairman Joseph Platzker of the Mayor's Committee on Rent as "a victory for the 2,000,000 rent-paying families of the city." Real estate interests, who had already inserted escalator clauses in their leases in anticipation of a favorable ruling, announced they would carry the case to the emergency court of appeals for review of the OPA decision. Conceding that "some individual items of expense" had increased, the OPA said that the overall rise in expenses since 1939 had been less than 5 per cent. "A substantial increase in occupancy has more than compensated for this rise in expense," OPA pointed out.

Big Job Program Crucial Need of California, Says Gardiner Johnson

Oakland, Calif. A job program "is the No. 1 problem if a political and social upheaval in California after the war is to be avoided," Assemblyman Gardiner Johnson told a conference of the State Reconstruction and Re-employment Commission here. Johnson estimated an increase in Bay area population by 1950 of 1,800,000 to 2,500,000 for all of whom jobs will have to be found if a gigantic relief program is to be avoided. Pres. David Adelson of the Oakland local of Federation of Architects, Engineers, Chemists and Technicians urged gradual reconversion of war plants, with both war and peace time production going on at the same time. Under-scoring Adelson's demand for reconversion, Sec. Robert Ash of the Alameda County Central Labor Council said that "labor wants the million and a half newcomers to California to stay. We must also put the 750,000 returning war veterans into jobs." "Labor is 100 per cent behind the west, fighting the eastern monopolies that are trying to close our basic industries," he said. "We will fight to keep the Geneva and Fontana steel mills, the aluminum refineries and the airplane plants operating."

Wisconsin Labor Unanimous For Fourth Term

Milwaukee, Wis. The Wisconsin Federation of Labor unanimously endorsed a fourth term for President Roosevelt at its annual convention here. Incumbent Pres. George Herberman, re-elected over his opponent, Jack Friedrich, said he aimed "to knit closer the ranks of Wisconsin labor to establish closer relationship between labor and industry and to lend full co-operation to service organizations in behalf of discharged servicemen." The convention also voted support of a reconversion bill along the lines of the Kilgore measure, condemned promoters of racial and religious hatred, demanded abandonment of the Little Steel formula and rejected a proposal to bar Communists from membership in any affiliated unions.

BIG UNION OPENING TENTH CONVENTION; THOUSAND ATTEND

New York City The 10th convention of the United Electrical, Radio and Machine Workers, third largest CIO affiliate, is opening here. More than 1000 delegates, representing 700,000 war workers, will attend.

You Might Know This Bird Once Was on Tribune

Chicago, Illinois Donald Day, for 20 years Riga correspondent of the Chicago Tribune, has decided he can get quicker service for his anti-Russian yarns on the radio. So he is starting daily broadcasts on the Berlin radio, according to the Federal Communications Commission. Day was expelled from Latvia in 1940 when the country joined the Soviet Union. Two years before the Polish government had annulled his yearly visa to visit Poland. Day resigned from the Tribune staff in 1942 to enlist in the Finnish army, he said. It is not known whether he was in the front lines. Chicago labor men declared Day would feel at home on the Berlin radio. "It'll be just like the Chicago Tribune, only quicker," they said.

Newspapers Reflect the Public? Haw, Haw, Haw!

Columbus, Ohio Dewey has 139 Ohio papers backing him for President while Roosevelt has 26---two more than in 1940, a Cincinnati Enquirer survey here reveals.

DON'T FALL FOR THIS PLOT TO DIVIDE LABOR AT THE POLLS!

(AN EDITORIAL)

The Republican press, in general, and the Hearst press, in particular, have entered into a conspiracy to confuse and befuddle the organized workers of the United States. They have deliberately set out on a campaign to create the impression that the CIO is for Roosevelt and the AFL is against him. They are doing their level best to split labor support for the President. Hence the avalanche of cartoons, display editorials and distortions to "reveal" a CIO "conspiracy," then to link it with "communism." This is purely a plot to take advantage of the division in the House of Labor to get more votes for Hoover's Dewey and to sink Roosevelt.

We in the American Federation of Labor resent this dirty business, and any AFL man who falls for it is a sucker. If there is anything that the great rank and file of both the AFL and CIO are agreed upon it is that they want Roosevelt for a fourth term. The kept press is intentionally playing down the fact that support of Roosevelt by AFL organizations is just as evident as that of the CIO. Here are a few examples: Already this year nearly half of the country's state federations have endorsed Roosevelt and, in nearly every case, by unanimous vote. Latest to back Roosevelt was the huge New York State Federation of Labor which, at its recent annual convention, voted overwhelmingly to support the President. The vote was something like 1000 to 6. Some of the biggest internationals in the AFL have endorsed Roosevelt. The international executive board of the Teamsters, including a few Republicans, UNANIMOUSLY endorsed Roosevelt. Here in California, no state convention has been held this year, but there is not the slightest doubt that were it possible to hold it the 1500 or more delegates would be almost unanimously for the re-election of FDR. In all the big centers of the state, such as Los Angeles, San Francisco and Alameda counties, the AFL central labor councils are just as solidly for Roosevelt as they are solidly against the vicious Proposition 12.

To follow the smear campaign in the subsidized newspapers, the unwary reader would get the impression that only the CIO is getting out the vote, registering people, getting ballot applications to the soldiers, etc. The fact is that the AFL unions in California are doing a bang-up job on this. Practically every AFL union in the state is doing splendid work in getting its membership registered and in backing up the campaign for Roosevelt and progressive congressmen.

We in the AFL have our differences with the CIO on matters of jurisdiction, on method of organization. We hope for the day when the CIO will be back in the AFL so that we can all go forward in a completely united labor movement. We resent "raids". But while we are striving for unity we cannot afford to fight among ourselves at the ballot box. For unless ALL stand together next November 7, labor as a whole can suffer a serious setback.

Make no mistake about it! All of the union-hating open-shop crowd in America are out to lick Roosevelt. The National Association of Manufacturers is out to lick Roosevelt. The Merchants and Manufacturers Association of Los Angeles (which sponsored the infamous Proposition No. 12) is out to lick Roosevelt. All the native fascists, the Dennises, Nobles, Deatherages, the echoers of the "Berlin line," are out to lick Roosevelt.

There is only one way that the reactionaries can beat the President---and that is to sow political dissension in the ranks of labor. Union membership in the AFL, the CIO, the Railroad Brotherhoods and the legitimate independent unions is now approaching the 15 million mark. If the bulk of these people stand together at the polls---behind Roosevelt, behind progressive, pro-labor candidates for Congress---they are an unbeatable combination. The Tories and their servile press know this. They know there is only one outside chance to win---and that is to split the labor vote---to play up the "red" CIO and thus cause among laborites serious defections from the progressive slate.

These same tory elements are trying to accuse the CIO of "buying the election"---just because the CIO is trying to raise a dollar a head from its members to get literature to the people about the issues of the campaign, to get folks registered, to get them to the polls. They are deliberately suppressing the fact that AFL organizations are doing the same thing. Back of this plot is the attempt to get AFL members to think that the common folks of this country cannot put up a dollar a head without being party to "buying the election." The Connally-Smith law says only that union organizations, as such, cannot contribute to candidates for federal offices. Any individual can put up a dollar, or five dollars, or $500, to help elect any candidate. And here in California any union organization itself can put up any amount it wants to help defeat Proposition 12.

Let's not be "suckered" into the trap that is being laid for us. If you are in the AFL, have your union (if it has not already done so) put up at least a dollar a member to send into the State Federation of Labor to fight No. 12. Then try to get as many of your members as possible to contribute another dollar to back Roosevelt and Truman and all progressive pro-labor candidates. If you haven't any way of handling this money, then turn it over to your local Democratic County Central Committee.

Remember: It's just as true now as when Ben Franklin said it a long time ago---"hang together, or hang separately!"

State Federation Urges Unions To Redouble Efforts On Registrations

(Release from Office of California State Federation of Labor)

San Francisco, Calif. Realizing that September 28 is the deadline for the registration of voters, the California State Federation of Labor is urging all of the unions throughout the state to redouble their efforts in arranging for the registration of all their members who are qualified to vote and who have not yet-registered. One of the biggest problems that labor has to solve in order to defeat Proposition No. 12 is to assure the turnout of labor's vote in November. Labor's vote and the vote of its friends throughout the state could assure the defeat of this bill. Unfortunately, the task of seeing that every union member is a registered voter is not being fully prosecuted. This is a job for every union member in every community.

Another important factor is the women's vote. Roughly 60 per cent of the voters in the State of California will be women. This in itself should be sufficiently impressive to make imperative the mobilization of women against this measure. Thousands of women are now members of the trade union movement. The wives and friends of union members are a part of this 60 per cent. Special effort should be made by every union, through its Citizens' Committee and all other channels, to reach the women voters of this state.

APPEAL TO WOMEN

The women have as much to lose as the men, should Proposition No. 12 become a law. As housewives, they will be affected if their husbands lose their employment because of the invalidation of a union contract, or, if they keep their jobs but have their earnings sharply reduced through wage cuts. As union members, they will obviously be victimized. As women in the various professions, they also will be hurt should the smooth functioning of the industrial and commercial life of the State of California be disrupted by Proposition No. 12. There is no reason why any woman should support this measure, once the truth about it is supplied her. This is the job that every opponent of Proposition No. 12 must do.

The first state-wide broadcast was launched from Los Angeles against Proposition No. 12 on Monday, September 4, at 10:15 p.m. over the Mutual Network. The speakers were Ona Munson, well-known motion picture actress, and Art Baker, national newscaster.

BROADCAST SERIES

There will be ten more broadcasts over the Mutual Network at the same time every Monday evening. The Federation urges that all of its members and friends tune in at 10:15 p.m. on Monday nights to hear the messages that will be delivered dealing with Proposition No. 12.

MORE ON BLUE NETWORK

Other messages over the Blue Network have been arranged. The time and date will be released sufficiently in advance, so that every one will have an opportunity to tune in. All union members should not only keep informed of these broadcasts, but get their friends to do likewise and give as wide publicity to the speakers as possible.

Haggerty Tells Radio Audience Labor Has Kept Its War Pledge

San Francisco, Calif. Renewing the "No strike" pledge of the California State Federation of Labor, and declaring that it would be unfair to indict the ranks of loyal California labor because of a "few missteps," C. J. Haggerty, executive secretary of the California State Federation of Labor delivered "Labor's Report to California" over the Blue network as the principal address for organized labor on Labor Day. In a statement to the press embodying the principal points of his report, Mr. Haggerty declared, in reference to isolated strikes that have occurred, that it would be as unfair to indict all of organized labor for such occurrences as it would be to "indict an entire army because of a few slackers in its ranks."

Haggerty said that less than one-tenth of one per cent of California labor has been involved in such occurrences, of a total civilian labor population in California at this time of three and one-half million workers.

The Pity of It All!

Hearst should talk about regimentation! At one stroke of the pen he degraded every one of his employees to the status of a fellow worker of Westbrook Pegler. Newspapersmen used to say: "Don't tell mother I'm working for Hearst; she thinks I'm playing piano in a hook-shop." Now what can the poor devils say?

PROOF OF THE PUDDING

Recently most of California's newspapers carried a significant story released by the Bureau of Agricultural Economics of the U. S. Department of Agriculture. It was a "tale of two California cities—one city based on large and the other on small farms." It makes timely reading in view of the organized attempt to break down the 160-acre limitation policy in connection with the distribution of Central Valley water. An exhaustive survey was made of Dinuba and Arvin. They are compared because both are in the San Joaquin Valley, have fairly equal populations, are agricultural communities.

First, let's keep this salient fact in mind: The average farm in Dinuba is 57 acres, while the average farm in Arvin is 497 acres—almost nine times as big.

	Arvin	Dinuba
Number of banks	None	Two
Newspapers	One	Two
Business Places	62	141
Grammar schools	One	Four
High schools	None	One
Service Clubs	Two	Five
Fraternities	None	Seven
Veterans Clubs	None	Two
Churches	Seven	Fourteen
Housing	Very poor	Adequate
Juvenile Delinquency	Fairly Serious	Slight
Wage Worker Ratio	80 Per Cent	50 Per Cent
Yearly Retail Trade	$2,534,000	$4,317,000
Paved Streets	None fully paved	Nearly all
Sidewalks	None	General rule
Housing	Crowded together	Adequate spacing
Brick Buildings	Three	Dozens
Boy Scout Troops	One	Two
Civic democracy	Very little	High degree

These comparisons are fair because, in the words of the investigators, "the two communities have about the same resources, and their farm production is similar." Dinuba has 7,700 people as against 6,500 for Arvin, but, on the other hand, Arvin has a larger acreage of cropland.

This is the answer to those who, in an effort to repeal the 160-acre limitation, are pointing to the "beauties" of corporate farming as against the "misery and insecurity" of the family-sized farm. Facts beat theories all to hell.

United States Senator Sheridan Downey, whose record in the Senate is generally excellent and whom this newspaper is supporting for re-election, will do well to ponder the revelations in this modern "Tale of Two Cities".

PARTY-LESS GOVERNMENT

About twenty years ago, California, by constitutional law, established the "one-party idea" in the election of judges, other court offices, city and county officials and school officials. In other words, these officers are not chosen because of their affiliation with national parties, but because of fitness.

More and more subordinate employees in government positions are chosen by examination—the merit system. The system does not always work perfectly, but it is so much better than the "party system" that no one seems to desire a reversion to the old arrangement.

In any state or nation, if elections are free and honest and all persons vote their convictions, divisions of the electorate into parties may not be necessary to secure good government.

ANOTHER TVA?

A Missouri Valley Authority to develop the river to its capacity in flood-control, power, irrigation, erosion control and navigation has been introduced in Congress. Progressives and liberals in the valley, led by the St. Louis Post-Dispatch, are planning to take key men for a long and thorough investigation of the Tennessee Valley project—the grandest job for human welfare the world has ever known. Incidentally, it is estimated that past flood damage in the Missouri Valley has cost enough to pay for this proposed improvement.

CAPONE DISCIPLINES CAPONE

Chester Bowles, Price Administrator, has established an "Office of Industry Committee" which will make the rules to secure compliance with regulations. It has no consumer or labor members. The people who have been smashing price controls will make the suggestions as to how best to catch themselves.

Poverty Anywhere Is a Menace to Prosperity Everywhere

Keeping Down Living Costs With the O.P.A.

Manufacturers of staple work gloves got a 4 per cent increase in their prices, but the gloves won't cost workers any more than usual, the OPA has announced. Wholesale and retailers have been ordered to absorb the rise without passing it on to consumers.

Even South Africa has felt the rise in living costs as the result of the war. A prospective bridegroom in Durban thought he would be able to get a bride by paying $88 plus seven cows. But before he could complete the deal, her dad demanded $128 in cash, claiming increased cost of living made brides more expensive. He protested to government officials, only to learn that there was no ceiling price on brides.

And speaking of rent cases, Congress gave the landlords a little break when it made it possible for him to apply for higher rates if he could show he had been "caught with his rents down." But it makes it a lot tougher for him on overcharges. Formerly, OPA could sue for overcharges to tenants, but the new law makes it possible for OPA to sue for $25 or more for every overcharge if the tenant fails to do so within 30 days.

"Westbrook Pegler is absolutely right," announced Mr. Dilworth. "Oh, come now, Pop, you wouldn't expect him to be left, would you?" asked Little Luther. "I mean he's right when he says we ought to watch out for those Parisians." "Don't tell me Pegler believes in international friendship!" "Of course not. He means the kind of watch out where you don't trust them—and I wouldn't trust them farther than I can throw..." "The bull?" "It was immoral, that's what it was," fumed Mr. Dilworth. "Dancing in the streets, kissing soldiers... And what were those French workers doing with guns?" he demanded suspiciously. "They might have hurt somebody." "That's what the American reporters were afraid of," said Little Luther. "So next time we capture a city we'll have to instruct the workers in the American way of life—don't send the traitors to jail, send them to Congress, instead." "Why, Luther, I don't know whom you can be talking about," protested Mr. Dilworth. "Oh, yeah? Fish again."

Councilman of New York Hits 'Little Steel'

New York City
A resolution backing the demand of Labor for revision of the Little Steel formula was introduced in the New York City Council by Democratic Majority Leader Joseph T. Sharkey.

A public hearing will probably be held on the resolution, which was introduced in the midst of the drive for a 17c hourly wage increase and a guaranteed annual wage conducted by the United Steelworkers, United Auto Workers and United Electrical, Radio & Machine Workers.

The resolution asks the National War Labor Board to approve the wage increases for war workers to help them meet increased living costs. "These wage earners," it says, "have achieved unprecedented records of production for our victorious armed forces by personal sacrifice and by scrupulously living up to the no-strike policy in the interests of a United Nations victory."

THE MARCH OF LABOR

THE SIX WEEKS' WAR, by Theodore Draper. Available to Members of Book Find Club at Special Membership Price of $1.35. Address Book Find Club, 480 Lexington Avenue, New York City.

I believe that every Frenchman would be proud to have been able to write a book such as "The Six Weeks' War," written by the great diplomatic journalist, Mr. Theodore Draper, colleague and collaborator of "Pour la Victoire."

This book is a great historical and philosophical accomplishment, and the author never loses sight of his very simple way of presenting facts, even military facts, to the public. Nothing can be fairer than the method adopted by Theodore Draper in presenting to the American public one of the greatest tragedies in history, the Fall of France, which, as he says so wonderfully in his last chapter, was "so universal that nationality meant so little in order to feel it with all the intensity of one's being. The fate of such a nation haunts us and will not give us peace. France's ruin drove us to the edge of darkness. Her salvation will tell us that we have come into the light."

Many books have been written on France's collapse. But not one of them has given us the entire panorama covering at once the military, moral and political issues of that collapse. This is what Mr. Draper's book does.

Mr. Draper analyzes the accusation of treason upheld by public opinion on King Leopold of Belgium and the French General Korap. He comes to the conclusion that those two men, weak and of second-rate composition, acted as one would have expected them to act in circumstances which were as they were.

What is most striking for French political writers in this book is the accuracy of judgment on everything and on everyone. None of us can catch Mr. Draper on anything, be it details, psychology, responsibilities of the actors, or general trend of the drama.

For the first time, I believe, the

POEM OF THE WEEK

What We Fight For

What is it we are fighting for?
For all we hold as just
For tolerance and dignity
And simple, human trust.
For faith and hope, and honors,
We are fighting one and all.
For old and homely axioms
We learned when we were small.
The mottoes of the copy books
Of honesty and charity.
And simple common sense.
We fight with our united might,
With body, soul, and brain
To save the "moldy platitudes"
The copybooks contain.
We're fighting for the copybooks
Those adages and saws
Which fools deride,
But which abide as fundamental laws
Which are the key to decency,
Those rusty rules that give
To age and youth the guiding truth
By which all free men live.

Wagner Flays Dewey 'Labor Alarm' Line, Plugs for FDR

New York City
With a statement that "we shall not permit reaction to succeed" Senator Robert F. Wagner (Dem. N. Y.), according to the New York Times, told the eighty-first annual convention of the New York State Federation of Labor recently that the continuance in office of the Roosevelt Administration was essential to the interests of the nation.

He assailed those who, he said, plead for "States' rights" as a means of undoing the achievements in the Federal Government in the field of social and labor legislation.

WELFARE IN BALANCE
"Too much hangs in the balance—all the work that we have done, the whole future of America, the lives and welfare of our children and their children after them," Senator Wagner declared. He appealed to the federation "to hew out the line that you have always set" and promised "to be by your side as long as my strength remains."

MEAD LAUDS PRESIDENT
Senator Wagner was preceded by Senator James M. Mead (D. N. Y.), who extolled the record of the Roosevelt Administration and the President's leadership in war and peace.

Both Mr. Wagner and Mr. Mead ridiculed the statement in Gov. Thomas E. Dewey's Labor Day proclamation that there was a danger of the wartime restrictions imposed upon labor remaining permanent and that these restrictions, if left in the hands of Government, could destroy the institution of a free American labor movement and totally end the right of collective bargaining.

An Answer to Those Who Don't Like FDR

"HE (MR. ROOSEVELT) WANTS TO BE PRESIDENT OF THE WORLD."

This is fantasy. Whatever association of nations evolves out of the post-war plans it will be an association of equals and all peoples will share in its organization. The United States is not going to run it. Nor is any other one nation. Those who can see nothing in the President's attempt to organize the nations but an effort to give himself a world presidency are merely exposing the limitation of their own minds, not giving us any adequate measure of his.—DR. FRANK KINGDON, author of "That Man in the White House: You and Your President."

TORIES TAKE MILK FROM MOUTHS OF INFANTS!

Birmingham, Alabama
Birmingham babies went without milk for nearly a week because of the Christian American-inspired Bradford act, which outlaws the closed shop in Alabama.

Using the law as an excuse, Southern Dairies Inc. flatly refused to obey a National War Labor Board order to sign a contract renewing a closed shop agreement with Local 612, International Brotherhood of Teamsters. When the teamsters refused to work without a contract the company closed the plant.

More than 1800 gallons of milk were dumped while the company persisted in its refusal to obey the WLB because it claimed it would be "liable to prosecution" under the Bradford act.

Flouting federal authority in true states rights fashion, State Labor Director Emmett Brooks instructed the company: "Neither the war labor board nor any other federal agency has authority to direct any person or corporation to violate the laws of Alabama."

After a WLB ultimatum to sign the contract or face possibility of government action, the dairy company signed despite the Bradford act and the teamsters went back to work.

Warren Urging Housewives To Aid in Harvest

Sacramento, Calif.
Gov. Earl Warren appealed to Californians, particularly housewives and white collar workers, to take harvest cannery jobs to meet September peaks as thousands of students return to school.

California's federal migrant worker camps are unprecedently packed, a recent count showed. Some 12,000 domestic workers plus 1500 Mexican nationals reside in California and Arizona camps, now administered by the Office of Labor.

Despite contrary assumptions, the stream of job seekers from Oklahoma, Arkansas, Texas and other Midwest states has not ceased with the war. However, wartime "loads" expect better living and working conditions than their dust bowl predecessors did. They travel with less camping equipment and know non-farming jobs are available if they find agricultural employment unsuitable.

HERE COME THE RESERVES!

SHOCK TROOPS may capture vital beach heads. But then must come the reserves . . . to hold them!

In the same way the profitable farm must have financial reserves behind it to be safe. No owner or tenant can operate satisfactorily when one crop failure, one crisis of sickness, accident or weather, can push him over the edge of disaster.

For you, as for countless farsighted farmers and ranchers all over the country, War Bonds are an investment in farm security as well as an obligation to your country.

While they are helping to equip our Armed Forces, your Bonds are also building up a backlog of strength for you against emergencies. Just when you'll be needing money most for vital postwar replacements, every three dollars you've invested will come back to you at maturity increased to four . . . to help pay the bills!

So put every War Bond you can behind the war—and your farm!

5 REASONS FOR INCREASING YOUR WAR BOND PURCHASES

1. The tempo of this war is hitting its highest point. Government expenditures for war are at the post. MORE MONEY IS NEEDED . . . NOW!
2. In proportion to WHO HAS THE MOST MONEY, individuals are not buying their share of War Bonds. America must correct this situation.
3. War Bonds provide the farmer and rancher with the financial reserve he must have to survive the ordinary ups and downs of farming as a business.
4. Money will be needed urgently at a future date to replace and repair farm equipment, machinery, and buildings. War Bonds will provide it.
5. War Bonds are the safest investment in the world, return a good rate of interest, are easy and convenient to buy . . . from bank, post office, rural mail carrier or Production Credit Association.

For America's Future, for your Future, for your children's Future

Brother—you CAN do it!

It's no cinch. But...

You can lug your flame thrower through a curtain of bullets...

You can jump from a transport plane into unknown darkness...

You can plunge out of an invasion barge in the first wave ashore...

You don't say "I can't." Or "Let some other guy do it." Or "I've done plenty already." It's up to you!

The same way—we at home can buy more War Bonds. Sure—you've been buying and buying. Maybe you think you've hit your limit?

Don't tell that to the men out there doing your fighting. Now's the urgent moment to back them up with every Bond you can squeeze out cash for. Make a few sacrifices. Give up a few comforts. But get those Bonds—and hold 'em!

Sun-Yat-Sen, Through Voice of His Son, Sun-Fo, Warns China Ideals Of Revolution Are Disintegrating

By "OBSERVER"

Sun-Fo, son of Sun-Yat-Sen, the George Washington of China who was organizer of the revolution that overthrew the corrupt and tyrannical Manchu dynasty, has written a book—"China Looks Forward" (The John Day Company, New York, $3).

He denounces the Kuomintang government of China and pleads for democracy and the building of a society that shall provide opportunity for the "common man" of that country. To make plain the need for a truly democratic government he offers these illustrations:

"We can take Szechuen (the province in which the Chiang Kai-Shek Kuomintang government is located) to begin with. The tillers of land in this province are mostly tenants; rents are as a rule paid in kind, from 60 to 70 per cent of the rice harvest, to landlords. . . . As things are going now, the landlords will continue to acquire land and hoard rice share to the war effort. . . . The national profiteers of this war have also acquired great estates. The government could not mobilize their wealth without serious resistance."

"Village government is . . . the private preserve of the corrupt gentry and rapacious landlords. Since the war, the tyrannous grip of these local leaders over the village people has been tighter than ever. Taking advantage of the government measures for the collection of grain and the conscription of soldiers, these people have increased their power for evil-doing at the expense of the helpless peasantry."

Go back and read Sun-Fo's description again. Then be honest and ask yourself this question: "If I were a Chinese peasant and saw all this going around me, would I sing the praises of my government or would I join with the 'reds' to get more land, more food, more freedom and less taxes?"

And some of us are wondering just what the influence of such a government will be in the new League of Nations which is to chart the future destiny of the world!

POLL-TAXER HITS BETTER HOUSING FOR WORKERS

Washington, D.C. When Uncle Sam builds homes for workers as part of the win-the-war effort, and rents them at reasonable prices, the tenants are on a "perpetual dole," a Louisiana polltax congressman said recently. The statement came from Rep. F. Edward Hebert (D., La.) in opposing a slum clearance project for Washington, who wants the government to charge all the rent it can squeeze from a tenant.

Drive On For Fifteen Thousand Pastors to Back Roosevelt Fight

New York City A campaign to enlist 15,000 ministers, priests and rabbis in the fight to elect Roosevelt and a progressive Congress was launched by the National Citizens Political Action Committee.

Under the direction of the Rev. Dwight J. Bradley, former pastor of the Broadway Tabernacle church, the campaign will be carried on through a series of letters every two weeks until election day to clergymen throughout the nation.

Art World Backs Roosevelt

Labor is not alone in its organized support of President Roosevelt and Senator Truman. Six hundred writers, artists and actors have organized the Independent Voters Committee in the Arts and Sciences for Roosevelt. Among them are Helen Keller, famed blind and deaf author, and Jo Davidson, sculptor, who is chairman. (Federated Pictures)

SUE'S PAY CHECK: I just got a peek at Harry's pay check—it's smaller than I am! He's putting over 15% of his salary into War Bonds!

JOE'S PAY CHECK: Smart idea. But part of you goes into War Bonds, doesn't it?

SUE'S PAY CHECK: W-e-l-l . . . I hate to admit it, but I'm only a 7-percenter.

Sardines are a source of proteins which are highly digestible. The quality of these proteins is equal to that of casein (the protein of milk) which is considered an equal source of protein. Sardine oil contains as much or more Vitamin D than high grade cod liver oil. ## Hearst Papers Back of Plot To Set Aside People's Will

New York City Chances are nine out of ten you don't read the Hearst press, so you will not have heard of the plot announced in the domestic Nazi press to nullify the election decisions of the people insofar as members of the House of Representatives are concerned. The story appeared in the New York Journal-American column of Goebbels' under study, George Rothwell Brown.

The Constitution provides, as everyone knows, that each House of Congress "shall be the judge of the elections, returns, and qualifications of its own members." Which can be interpreted to mean that 218 members of Congress can void the elections of 217, and then 110 of the remaining members can void the election of 108, and so on until two of the three remaining ones vote out the other. This is the reductio ad absurdum of the constitution, of course, and long before 217 members were thrown out, there would be a fascist dictatorship approved by the 218, and Congress wouldn't mean anything anyway. But at the same time the 1 per cent vote of a poll-taxer can be counted even as against the 35 to 50 per cent vote of, say, a New York pro-victory legislator's one vote in the House.

HEARST SWEATS BLOOD
It's really a plot of desperation that Hearst announces. The idea is to get together the majority of the Republican members with their poll-tax allies, and throw out of Congress by majority vote all members who were supported by labor in the elections. According to Brown the idea was hatched up by the poll-tax lawyers in the House Judiciary Committee. It's not only desperate. It's fantastic. But unless the voters turn out in their millions, as never before, to elect a win-the-war Congress and President, it isn't beyond the realm of possibility that the rats in their corners will try to pull some such scandalous stunt, at least in regard to the most outstanding win-the-war members.

A Republican For Roosevelt

I am a Republican, but I am an American first. I am supporting Franklin D. Roosevelt because the issues in this election are above and beyond all personal differences and party ties. Franklin D. Roosevelt is the most experienced man in America in foreign affairs. His foreign policy is admirable. — GOV. GIFFORD PINCHOT, former Republican Governor of Pennsylvania.

PM WRITER GETS GUILD AWARD FOR 'BEST JOB'

New York City Winner of the American Newspaper Guild 1944 Heywood Broun memorial award for the best newspaper job in the spirit of the guild's first president is Nathan W. Robertson, a member of the Washington staff of PM.

A jury composed of ANG Pres. Milton Murray, Quentin Reynolds, war correspondent, and Emile Gauvreau, author and former newspaper editor, awarded the Broun prize to Robertson for a series of PM stories, citing in particular his exposés of the Washington fire insurance lobby, the Wright Aeronautical Corp. inspection scandal and the Elk Hills-Standard Oil deal.

Robertson, who received a $250 war bond along with the award, was elected international vice-president-at-large of the ANG at the union's 11th annual convention in Milwaukee in August.

Meritorious mentions in the contest went to Arnold Belchman of PM for exposing anti-Semitic outrages in Boston; Walter Winchell, New York Mirror columnist, for his fight against Martin Dies; and Orrin C. Evans, Philadelphia Record reporter, for a series exposing discrimination against Negro soldiers in army camps.

MINUTES Central Labor Council

The meeting of the Monterey Peninsula Central Labor Council of September 5, 1944, was called to order by President McCutcheon.

The roll call showed the presence of nine delegates from seven locals. Regular officers present were President McCutcheon, Secretary-Treasurer Edwards, and Sergeant-at-Arms Burke.

Credentials were presented for George Dietl as a delegate from the Carpenters. It was moved, seconded and passed that he be seated. The minutes of the meeting of June 20 were read and approved as read.

Bills presented and approved were: $6.40 to the Monterey Peninsula Herald for advertising, $5 to the Secretary for stamps, and $12 to the California State Federation of Labor for dues to September 1, 1945.

A communication from the Painters stated that Mr. Frank Bridler had been placed on the "WE DO NOT PATRONIZE" list, and asked that the Council concur in this action. It was moved, seconded and passed that said Frank Bridler be placed on the "WE DO NOT PATRONIZE" list of this Council.

A communication from Wm. Green reported that the Typographical Union is now in good standing with the A. F. of L. It was moved, seconded and passed that the Secretary write to Monterey local of the Typographical Union inviting them to reaffiliate with the Central Labor Council.

A communication from the American Federation of Labor asked that all boys and girls of school age return to school and urging all members to do what they can to see that they get there. Brother Wm. J. Allen spoke briefly in favor of Proposition 11 on the November ballot. It was moved, seconded and passed that the Council go on record as favoring Proposition 11.

Brother Kenyon, of Salinas, was present and spoke against Proposition 12. He urged the sending of pamphlets to all registered voters. He also recommended that the Salinas Council and the Monterey Peninsula Council exchange delegates.

The Cannery Workers, subject to the approval of the membership—to provide the labor for mailing campaign material to the voters opposing Proposition 12. It was moved, seconded and passed that the Council would pay the postage on campaign material mailed out by the Cannery Workers.

Communications were presented by the Painters regarding a jurisdictional dispute with the Cannery Workers. After a considerable discussion it was moved, seconded and passed that the Council did not have authority to render a decision in this case and recommended that the Painters take up the matter with their International, which in turn, if it chose, could take up the matter with the Seafarers Union or direct with the American Federation of Labor.

The financial report was read and the meeting adjourned. WAYNE EDWARDS, Secretary-Treasurer.

FISH KNOWS HIS STUFF IS 'FISHY'

New York City Ham Fish knows better than to air his connections with Nazis in public court.

So the Republican congressman quietly dropped a bluff libel suit he started during the primary campaign which saw him win renomination by a narrow margin.

The suit was filed against Robert F. Cutler, secretary of the Good Government Committee of the 29th congressional district, organized to fight the isolationist's re-election. Fish claimed he was libeled by an advertisement of the committee linking him with Fritz Kuhn and other fascists.

In withdrawing the suit Fish modestly said he thought the case would attract too much publicity before the November elections. At the same time it was discovered that he had failed to sue Playwright Maxwell Anderson and other members of the Good Government Committee despite his widely publicized threats to do so.

Job Benefits to Aid Reconversion Change Vital, Says Baruch

Washington, D.C. Bernard M. Baruch, the administration's post-war advisory chief, in a statement declared "unemployment compensation is first in must legislation. It has already been postponed and delayed too long. . . . The George bill as it left the House Ways and Means Committee seems certainly inadequate."

Baruch, who cannot be smeared by the Tories in the House as a starchy-eyed dreamer or a long haired boy, made his statement to Vice-Pres. Richard T. Krickenstein of the United Auto Workers after the House had killed all hopes of a really broad post-war unemployment pay policy.

Starvation Is Sweeter

Musical Comedy Star Maurice Chevalier was reported shot by French patriots for collaborating with the Nazis.

Somebody Ought To Beat Up the Cops a Little!

San Francisco, Calif. Two San Francisco policemen were found guilty by the police commission of beating a 17-year-old merchant seaman, Manuel Valle, a member of the National Maritime Union.

On August 12 Valle, with two seaman companions, went to the Harbor Station to report a holdup in which he had been stabbed in the hand. One of the officers claimed one of the boys with Valle had "been in trouble before" and struck him. Valle asked: "What is this, America or Germany?" whereupon two husky officers beat him so badly he fainted.

Though Jord Sullivan, president of the commission, called the affair "inexcusable" and requested further investigation of conditions at the station, the two guilty policemen, Jack Countryman and Hugh O'Connor, were merely reprimanded and docked two weeks pay while they were under suspension.

Colored Votes For GOP Drop As Tobias Out For Roosevelt

New York City

Republican leaders, boasting that Gov. Dewey has the Negro vote safely tucked away in his back pocket, weren't so confident as Dr. Channing Tobias, influential Negro leader, announced his support of President Roosevelt.

Tobias made his decision known in a letter to Sidney Hillman, chairman of the National Citizens Political Action Committee. The NCPAC has organized nationally to elect the Roosevelt-Truman ticket and a progressive Congress.

BIG INFLUENCE
The action of Tobias, a life-long Republican, in swinging to Roosevelt, is expected to influence greatly a large block of conservative Negro voters.

Although leading political observers said the real effect of the Tobias statement could not be measured until November 7th, it was generally believed that it might tip the scales toward the Democratic candidates in many of the key electoral states where Negroes hold the balance of voting power.

PRAISES ROOSEVELT
Tobias declared his support of Roosevelt "because his philosophy of government and the generally progressive course that he has followed for the past 12 years have invested the common man of every race, creed and color with a dignity and inspired him with a hope that he has never known before."

The Negro spokesman tied Gov. Dewey to the "states rights" clique which has blocked so much liberal legislation in Congress. He said southern Negroes would suffer harsh results if Dewey triumphed.

Tried Captain For The Ship of State

The first reason why President Roosevelt should be re-elected is that for our own safety we must have a tried and true captain on the bridge of our ship of state in these dangerous times. The second reason is that we must preserve constructive New Deal legislation and further perfect and extend it for the general welfare. The third reason is the need to preserve honest, democratic methods of electing our President and other national and state and local officials by such a decisive and overwhelming repudiation of the tactics employed by those at present in control of the Republican party that they will never be attempted again.—SEN. GEORGE W. NORRIS, former Republican Senator of Nebraska.

CALIFORNIA ALUMINUM PLANT SHUT

Los Angeles, Calif.

A government-owned aluminum ingot plant at nearby Torrance was ordered shut down by the War Production Board as part of a nation-wide cutback affecting three other plants owned by the Federal Defense Plant Corp. and four owned by Aluminum Co. of America.

Shutdown of the plant will reduce monthly ingot output by 30 million pounds. About 450 workers will be released gradually as operations terminate, with about 150 Torrance workers remaining some 60 days to close the plant. The workers are represented by the International Union of Mine, Mill and Smelter Workers.

The cutback does not affect two other southern California aluminum plants, Alcoa-Vernon and Bohn-Torrance, which fabricate, fashion and shape aluminum. Other west coast plants hit by the cutbacks include government-owned plants at Troutdale, Ore., and Spokane, Wash.

Alcoa will reduce production at Vancouver, Wash., as well as at Massena, N.Y., Alcoa, Tenn., and Badin, N.C.

Union officials met with government and industry leaders at the beginning of the war to make their historic "no strikes during wartime" pledge. It has never been violated.

'Mankind United' Out To Destroy Unionism, Court Charge Asserts

Alameda, Calif.—A suit brought against Mankind United and 15 of its leaders by an aged widow cheated of her entire property charges the so-called church not only with seditious utterances but also with "a concerted and systematic scheme to undermine and destroy the trade union movement."

Twelve of the defendants have already been convicted of sedition and are out on appeal. The organization has been cited to the NLRB for firing union members in properties it has bought and replacing them with its own people, who work 12 hours a day for room and board.

Every civilized man is a communist and a socialist to some extent, when he is not a frank criminal—BERNARD SHAW.

GIGGLES AND GROANS

RELAX, BROTHER!

A small-town gentleman while enjoying a convention in a large city attended a strip-tease performance with some of the boys and the next day was obliged to go to an oculist for treatment.

"When I left the show last night," he said, "my eyes were red, sore and swollen."
Upon examining him the oculist said: "After this, try blinking once or twice during the show. You won't miss much."

TUB-ULAR SITUATION

A young career girl has charge of the bookkeeping and business office of a south suburb country club and during the golf season lives at the club in a small apartment. The bathtub was not entirely satisfactory, and she complained to the house committee.

"What's the matter with it?" the committee demanded.
"It's rough on the bottom," she answered truthfully.
She is still blushing, but she has a new tub!

DE MORTUIS NIL NISI BONUM

"Say, pa."
"Well, my son?"
"I took a walk through the cemetery today and I read the inscriptions on the tombstones."
"Well, what about it?"
"Where are all the wicked people buried?"

NEARLY OUT OF SIGHT

"What is your brother in college?"
"A half-back."
"I mean in studies."
"Oh, in studies he's way back."

LESSER OF TWO EVILS

There had been several earthquake shocks in the neighborhood, so a married couple sent their little boy to an uncle who lived at some distance.

A few days later, the parents received this telegram: "Am returning your boy. Send earthquake."

LOCATION MARKERS

They started some mild sex education at the school. The neighbor's seven-year-old was overheard quizzing another as follows: "Do you know why women have nipples?"

"Of course, to give their babies milk."
"Then why have men nipples too?"

This stumped the lad and he unwillingly admitted ignorance.
"I know," said the other, "it's to show the doctor where to put his stethoscope."

ABSENCE MAKES—

A marine walked over to Zazu Pitts and said, "Hiya, Beautiful!"
Zazu smiled and said, "I know why you're calling me that. It's because I spent six hours in a beauty parlor."

The marine said, "No. It's because I spent six months in the Solomons."

BEGGARS DESCRIPTION

Uncle Mose: "Ain't yo all workin' now, Jawg?"

Jawg: "I use a 'pan-handler' now, Uncle Mose."

Uncle Mose: "Lawd a' mussy, what's dat?"

Jawg: "I use a night awduhly in de hospital."

THE FAMILY SLACKER

Entering a tavern with his wife and six-year-old son, Oscar ordered two straight whiskies.

"Hey, Pa," the boy said, "ain't Ma drinkin'?"

POINT OF ORIGIN

The officer received a complaint about the issue of bread.

"Soldiers should not make a fuss about trivialities," he said. "If Napoleon had that bread when he was crossing the Alps, he'd have eaten it with delight."

"Yes, sir," said the corporal. "But it was fresh then."

ADDED COMPLICATION

Doctor (to husband of patient): "There's no need to worry about your wife, sir. You'll have a different woman when she gets out of the sanatorium."

Husband: "But what if she finds it out?"

It was a tough decision to make, but the judges finally came up with the winners in the Mr. and Mrs. Presentism contest sponsored by Aero Mechanics Lodge 751, International Association of Machinists (AFL), in Seattle.

The two Boeing Aircraft workers who have stayed on the job since the attack on Pearl Harbor without a day of absence are Johanna Hiscocks and William R. Buckley. Buckley has a son in the navy and says he has lost count of how many war bonds he has bought. Miss Hiscocks has almost as many.

House Trailers

House trailers may now be sold to non-migratory workers in essential jobs where other housing accommodations are inadequate, the WPB announced.

Typographical Union Urges AFL and CIO Merger Soon

Grand Rapids, Mich.—A call for the AFL and CIO to unite to meet the severe tests of the postwar period with a single front highlighted the 87th annual convention of the International Typographical Union here recently.

Delegates unanimously approved a resolution asking the AFL and CIO peace committees to "begin immediate conferences to unite these two great labor organizations." Unity is vital now because the post-war era will impose tests requiring labor's "strongest efforts to withstand," the resolution said.

RANDOLPH'S APPEAL

Pres. Woodruff Randolph expressed the hope "that this convention may carry some word of the need of co-operation to the labor movement as a whole through the delegates to the next convention of the AFL." The ITU will work actively for AFL and CIO unity, he said, for "if we are to survive the type of pressure that is to be exerted upon us when this war is over, we must be united."

Calling for revision of the Little Steel formula, the ITU unanimously recommended that the National War Labor Board revert to the stabilization principle it established when it originally announced that a 15 per cent increase in the cost of living warranted a 15 per cent increase in wages.

BACK CEILING PRICES
The ITU urged enforcement of OPA ceiling prices and instructed its officers to work with the AFL and CIO in seeking extension of the social security act and the unemployment insurance laws in every state.

Looking toward the end of the war, the convention ruled that no contract will be negotiated by the ITU which does not provide a maximum workweek of five days with shifts not to exceed 7½ hours, six months after hostilities cease. Minimum vacation allowance of two weeks must also be written into every ITU contract, the resolution said.

Versatile Tomato

The tomato in its various forms is the most popular vegetable for main dish recipes. Tomatoes combine very well with soybeans.

The tomato appears in approximately one-half of the Foreign Dish recipes, some of which are: Veal Hungarian, Spanish Soybean Casserole, Mexican Chili, Italian Spaghetti, South American Goulash, Greek Musaka, Schnitzel Loaf, Chop Suey and Sub Gum Gal Pen.

Many of the recipes which were submitted call for fresh tomatoes and others specify canned tomatoes or tomato juice. Still other variations exist in the form of catsup, chili sauce, soup, pulp, puree, and paste.

Although experts are anxious for tomatoes to be eaten fresh and raw when available, they realize that the vitamin C content of tomatoes is reasonably stable to heat. Therefore, for the sake of variety, fresh tomatoes may be made into hot dishes. A whole unpeeled tomato is delicious when baked and served on toast with a cheese sauce. Grilled tomato halves and crisp bacon make an attractive main course for hot days when we are not too hungry and when we are interested in short-cut cooking. In cooking tomatoes the time should be as short as possible and, since they are very juicy, water is seldom needed.

Excellent recipes for preparing tomatoes are given in a new Government pamphlet titled, "Tomatoes on Your Table." Its number is AWI-104 and it may be obtained through the Union Label Trades Department or from the Office of Information, United States Department of Agriculture, Washington 25, D. C. Instructions are given for making catsup, chili sauce, tomato relish, and chow chow. Also, you may be surprised to see the recipes for tomato cookies, tomato cake, and tomato pie.

By TED TAYLOR

Any GI with the urge of authorship will be given a break by 20th Century-Fox. The movie company is offering 25 or more fellowships of $1,500 to men and women of the armed forces who submit promising story outlines. Discharged veterans are eligible too.

The fellowship will pay off at $100 a month over a 15-month period. During that time the GI literary fellow is expected to develop his outline into a book or play.

If he can get the story published the author will receive $18,500 more from 20th-Fox. If it isn't published but the company sees movie material in it, the additional price will be $8500.

CUT RATE. Speaking of money, Abbott and Costello, who make more of it than practically anybody in the movies these days, work for less on occasion. They took only $1 a day for a week's work at the Steel Pier at Atlantic City. They put on the blackface act they did at the pier eight years ago when coin was scarcer and Frank Elliott gave them a job and let them stay all summer.

MORE PAST. Edith Gwynn has dug out the fact that 30 years ago under different names Sydney Greenstreet and Arthur Treacher did a song and dance act in a London music hall. Would they by chance have billed themselves as Bulky & Flunkey?

PARKING NOTE. Sign outside the stage where Bing Crosby's company is filming The Great John L. (Sullivan): "This bench reserved for girls with bustles."

YOUR CONGRESSMAN REPORTS

By
GEORGE E. OUTLAND

As the American forces push the Nazis ever further back toward their own borders, and as allied victories mount one after the other, the problem of reconversion of our wartime economy to a peacetime one becomes ever more acute. Not that the war is over—there is going to be bitter fighting even in Europe for some time to come, to say nothing of that which must be done in the Pacific, but as the German satellites collapse, and the German armies are pushed back toward the "Fatherland," there will be fewer men needed in our army, and, inevitably, fewer supplies. This brings us immediately to the major problem of re-adjusting our manpower into civilian life, and gradually revamping our all-out war economy to a normal one of peace.

The questions posed by this problem rank in importance with the international settlement itself. If we again find ourselves with millions of men unemployed, with breadlines and apple sellers, with thousands of farms being foreclosed and thousands of factories being shut down, with millions of Americans migrating around the country on freight trains, the victories of our armies will prove even more expensive than we now estimate. It is essential that returning service men be adjusted quickly into our economic system. It is essential that those now working in war industries get back into peacetime jobs as soon as this can safely be done. It is essential that during the transition period there be as few unemployed, as possible, that those who DO find themselves out of work in spite of all their efforts to find jobs have unemployment compensation benefits to tide them over. It is essential that our national purchasing power be kept at as high a peak as possible, not only during this transition period but permanently.

To meet the reconversion situation, the Senate has passed what is popularly known as the George Bill. This Bill was then sent to the House, where the Ways and Means Committee debated it, amended it, and is now ready to present it to the full membership for action. The George Bill, in the estimation of your representative, is far from adequate to meet the reconversion problem. For example, of the nation's 65,000,000 workers it will provide unemployment compensation for about 30,000,000 or fewer than half. Moreover, it provides that the unemployed head of a family get an exceedingly small amount, in some states less by far than that needed even for a minimum standard of living, and in some states payment would be made for only a few weeks period. The Ways and Means Committee of the House has further limited the bill by striking from it the provisions to extend unemployment compensation to some 3,000,000 war workers in federal arsenals, shipyards and other plants. All in all, the bill that is coming before the House is extremely inadequate as a constructive measure to prevent another depression. If we are going to see American industry function at anything like its present level after the war we MUST maintain a high level of national purchasing power. Unemployment compensation is NOT charity; its principal purpose is to insure our national economy against the sharp decline of national purchasing power. Wartime savings will help, of course, but in themselves they will not be adequate.

In the many proposals that will come up on the floor of the House this week and next in regard to reconversion legislation, your representative expects to give his support to those which will do the most toward preventing another disastrous depression. I expect to work for amendments which will extend unemployment insurance and will provide a decent minimum compensation for a longer period than is provided for in present legislation. Several states at the present time have minimum unemployment benefits of $2 a week. How the American nation can justify such a situation is beyond my comprehension. How we can prevent a collapse of our economy unless we DO have more adequate unemployment compensation is also beyond my understanding. If we are to preserve the American economic system of freedom of enterprise we must at all costs prevent a post-war depression, a depression which could be far worse than the last one. I shall do my best to work and vote for a constructive, comprehensive, decent reconversion bill.

Until next week...

WHAT THE UNIONS REPORT

Salinas, Calif.
Carpenters 925—Routine meeting, two initiations, Recording Secretary Roy Hossack resigned and Ivan Miller named to this post temporarily. Hossack has moved into the San Juan Valley.

Painters 1104—Three initiations at last meeting; this union has gone on record as favoring a Salinas Building Trades Committee and is also backing the Salinas labor council's negotiations committee plan.

State Employees—International Representative Harry Wolfe is coming to this area to help organize in Monterey and San Benito counties.

Warehousemen 890—Remodeling of offices at Teamster's Hall has been started to provide more convenience for persons paying dues.

In Union Circles

SALINAS

The labor council organizing committee has proposed that the organizing committee be expanded to five members and that more unions get behind the new organizing drives in Salinas. To enlarge this committee requires a constitution change.

Bud Kenyon, labor council secretary, went to Monterey last week to speak against Proposition No. 12. He was well received. His suggestion that two delegates from the Salinas Council and two delegates from the Monterey Council be interchanged as fraternal delegates has been well received.

The new Salinas Building Trades Committee had its first meeting last week and discussed plans for the future. Permanent officers will be elected later.

Apparently the blood donor program is off for the time being—the Army cancelled its offer of free buses to take blood donors to San Francisco.

The labor council's "Back to School" program is progressing well, with a radio talk scheduled.

Monterey—City of Beauty

The colorful center of the area's attractions, and often called the "Cradle of California's History," Monterey nestles behind the hills on the peninsula, snug and safe from the restless Pacific. The fishing industry is obviously the town's economic mainstay. Hundreds of small fishing craft are hugged near shore when they're not out "purse seining" in the bay. The boats are noticeably different, built to accommodate the huge nets peculiar to the industry. You will enjoy a stroll on the wharves, watching the fisher-folk and you very likely will see an artist engaged in his effort to catch the atmosphere and colors on canvas.

Monterey's earliest history is centered in this area as it was near here that the first landings were made and the earliest buildings constructed, namely: First Brick House, Old Whaling Station, and the Old Customs House. The First Brick House, and the Old Customs House are the only two of the above mentioned that are open to the public. The latter has been converted into a museum and houses many interesting and old relics.

Nearly all of the adobe buildings are on a tourist route that is identified by an orange and red dotted line painted on the street pavements. To aid in the identification of the buildings, metal markers have been placed on the site which give a brief description and historical background of the site.

A number of these buildings are outstanding and worthy of special attention. Although many have changed somewhat in appearance and have been adopted for other uses, they are open to the public. The Casa Estrada was used as a one-story home. Later, two floors were added and it was used as a hotel and claimed to be one of the Pacific Coast's leading hotels. Today it is still being used as a hotel although much larger with the addition of a wing. Hand-hewn beams in the interior of the first floor contrast with the weathered white walls. There are balconies on the two upper floors and smaller ornamental balconies thus reflecting the Santa Barbara architectural style that is slightly different from "Monterey Style."

The Casa Sanchez, the only balconied building on Alvarado Street, is being used commercially and although the main part of the original structure was wrecked, the

No further business to come before the Council, the meeting adjourned at 9:30 p.m.

Respectfully submitted,
L. T. LONG,
Secretary-Treasurer.

ALONG CANNERY ROW

(AFL Fish Cannery Workers)

Not many fish caught last week and poor quality—season not looking so hot as this week.

Hearing on the contract some time this week—no idea yet as to how it all will come out.

Executive board meeting of the Fish Cannery Workers Union last Monday morning for important business matters.

W. N. Hubbard, employed at the reduction plant of Hovden's, suffered a broken shoulder in a fall last week.

Bill Crews, former FCWU executive board member, was seen walking along the Row last week and if you didn't know, you'd never believe he has an artificial limb. Bill is still working at Fort Ord these days. Don't be surprised to see him at a dance any day now.

Lester Caveny, union secretary, speaks:

Monday: "No!"
Tuesday: "I don't think so!"
Wednesday: "Maybe!"
Thursday: "Well-I-I-I!"
